Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) that was submitted on 12/27/2005 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the examiner is considering the information disclosure statement.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Beyar (6,726,675). Beyar discloses a remote control catheterization device.

Regarding claims 1, 8, 14 and 16, Beyar discloses a control drive interface unit (20) that operates with the following steps of receiving input from a user to manipulate the elongate member (50,52,54), sending signal to advance the member for retraction and rotation (63,67) (col 1, ln 63-69, col 2, ln 1-2, col 3-4), in addition the apparatus is used to drive multiple elongate members within a central elongate member (col 5, ln 60-70, col 6, ln 1-20). Beyar discloses an apparatus that comprises a base coupled to an elongate member (26, 46, 48) with a first (60) and second (61) motor coupled to the base (Figures 2-3) to retract and rotate the elongate member wherein the drive mechanism consists of a rotatable drum/wheel combination coupled (Figure 3) to the elongate members (Figure 2).

Regarding claims 2-7, 9-13, 15, 17-20, Beyar discloses a elongate members that consists of a cannula, catheter, and guidewire (26, 46, 48) that are inherently flexible to be put into the vasculature of the patient being controlled by a pointing device (40) with proportional speed control (col 6, ln 20-30) coupled to a computer (34) system wherein the system rotates a series of motors to maneuver the catheter remotely. The motor drive includes several biasing wheels (Figures 2-3) and a clip wheel (63,67) to retain the catheter member.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Christopher D. Koharski whose telephone number is 571-272-7230. The examiner can normally be reached on 7:30am to 4:00pm EST.
